Dr. Russell Quaglia is back for another engaging parent night! Join him as he continues his discussion with parents on how to intentionally help children meet their full potential and reach their dreams. Dr. Russ will share strategies and ideas about how we can engage our children at all different levels, based on their aspirations, and discover ways to connect with and inspire children to succeed.

Dr. Russell J. Quaglia is founder and president of the Quaglia Institute for Student Aspirations. Go to www.qisa.org for more information.
